

Illness Closes Four Monroe County Schools

FOR NEW SCHOOLS: AN OLD RULE—Main speaker Carl T. Secor urged parents to remember that education comes through the home, too, last night as he helped them dedicate their new Arlington Heights School. In photo: Earl Groner, John Schimmel, Secor, Ralph Knauf, Edwin Buck and Harold Rinker present keys to new school.

Arlington Heights School Dedicated

STROUD UNION School District formally dedicated its Arlington Heights Elementary School building last night. Key speaker at the simple dedication program was Carl T. Secor, supervising principal of East Stroudsburg Area Joint Schools. Secor chose as his central theme the responsibility of the school to the community and the equal responsibility of the community to support of education. He urged parents to remember that a "school building is material alone." To have education you must add equipment and most of all, a good faculty, he noted. Secor cited the fact that the present Arlington Heights building stands on what was once part of a farm and "from that farm came a boy who devoted his life to teaching boys and girls—Theodore Metzgar."

Emphasizing the importance of the teacher in a child's life, he pointed out that educators cannot discriminate against any of the children—materials given to them each year—the average, the slow, retarded, poor or rich—but must take them all and turn them into the best students they can make of them. Teachers are devoted to their jobs, he said. But he urged parents to accept their own responsibilities for the moral and spiritual fiber of their children and not leave the whole job to the school. "The only people who need to worry about their kids are those who gave them nothing to take with them," he said. "I cannot dedicate this building for you. You must do that. Dedicate it to whatever you choose—to the children; to truth; to the beautiful, the good in life. But make sure that whatever you dedicate it to, that's what it turns out to be."

Secor was introduced by Earl F. Groner, Stroud Union superintendent. Following the guest speaker's talk, Groner thanked Secor on behalf of the community. During the early portion of the program, the key to the building was officially turned over to the Stroudsburg School Authority. Harold T. Rinker, architect (with M. R. Kiefer) for the school, presented the key to Howard P. Merring, Authority chairman. Merring then turned it over to John Schimmel, board president who, in turn, presented it to Ralph Knauf, school principal for Arlington Heights and Clearview Schools. Speaking for parents in the community was Edwin Buck, president of the newly-formed Arlington Heights Parent-Teachers Assn. Other guests of honor were Roger A. Dunning, union district elementary supervisor and Rev. Thomas Shoemaker, who gave the invocation and benediction.

Additional Thousands Grow Ill As Influenza Spreads In Pennsylvania Population

By The Associated Press
INFLUENZA — the Asian type, a mild form or just the regular flu—spread across Pennsylvania yesterday as additional thousands became ill. With the epidemic gaining strength, deaths attributable to some form of respiratory illness climbed to six at the Pennhurst State Training School for the mentally retarded at Spring City, Chester County. A seven-year-old girl was the latest victim yesterday. Five boys, between the ages of six and 16, died Tuesday. Tests are being conducted by the state to determine if Asian Flu was the cause. The bulk of the persons made ill by the fast-spreading germs are children, or young men and women in high school or college. In Philadelphia, 24 per cent of the city's 375,000 public and parochial school children have been or are now ill. Latest reports indicate that about 70,000 children, or 19 per cent, were absent from classes yesterday. Dr. James P. Dixon, Philadelphia health commissioner, estimated that the still-not-completely-diagnosed disease, will last about a month or five weeks longer, striking between 200,000 and 400,000 of the city's 2 million residents. Colleges were hard hit. The University of Pennsylvania and Temple University—two of the biggest in the state—reported their infirmaries jammed. Penn State reported more than 1,000 absent from classes. Three suburban Philadelphia hospitals closed their doors to visitors, except to those visiting relatives in critical condition. They are North Penn Hospital, Lansdale; Grandview Hospital, Sellersville, and Quakertown Community Hospital. Hazleton's public schools were to be closed Thursday and Friday. Officials hoped to keep them open, but found absenteeism among students and teachers too great. Pennhurst was the most severely hit institution in the state. Besides the deaths, around 850 of its 3,149 juvenile residents—or roughly 25 per cent—were ill with flu.

Allentown Flood Control Plan Certain

HARRISBURG, Oct. 16 (AP)—Establishment of an Allentown flood control district on Nov. 13 was termed a certainty today. Flood Control District No. 32 is the administrative name of a $2,262,000 federal-state-local project to dredge the Lehigh River from the Hamilton St. Bridge downstream for one and a half miles. Establishment is tantamount to final approval by state and local authorities. It was prophesied by Clifford H. McConnell, chief of the Division of Flood Control of the state Department of Forests and Waters, who said: "I am sure the district will be established at the next meeting of the Water and Power Resources Board." The next meeting is scheduled for Nov. 13. At the board's last meeting, on Monday, establishment was postponed when one member insisted that Allentown authorities be allowed to pass on one aspect of the plans drawn by the Army Corps of Engineers. It was a question, McConnell quoted the member as saying, of determining whether the project would interfere with a local recreation facility—a swimming pool near the river bank.

Beck Changes Mind In Hoffa Deal

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (AP)—The Teamsters Union said today a federal court challenge of James R. Hoffa's election as Teamsters president is an unwarranted interference with labor union internal affairs. The union said a federal court judge who has temporarily restrained Hoffa from taking office lacks jurisdiction to pass on the legality of delegates seated at the union's convention. Teamster attorneys made the contentions in an answer filed in U.S. District Court late today seeking dismissal of an injunction suit brought by a group of New York rank-and-file Teamsters members. Delegates These members claim delegates to the convention were hand-picked to insure the election of Hoffa. Hoffa was overwhelmingly elected to succeed Dave Beck, who like Hoffa has been linked in Senate Rackets Committee testimony with charges in involving alleged misuse of union funds and abuse of union powers. Beck had planned to resign this week in favor of Hoffa instead of finishing out a term lasting until Dec. 1.

U. S. Ready To Back Turkey

Dulles Warns Of Possible Attack Plans

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles warned today the United States might attack Russian territory in retaliation for any Soviet aggression against Turkey. He said at a news conference, however, it was unlikely any such war would break out in the Middle East. "Certainly if there is an attack on Turkey by the Soviet Union," he said, "it would not mean a purely defensive operation by the United States with the Soviet Union a privileged sanctuary from which to attack Turkey."

Glances At Middle East

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Dulles said war is unlikely in the Middle East but warned that Soviet aggression against Turkey could bring a retaliatory U. S. attack on Soviet territory. ANKARA—Official Turkish circles called Dulles' statement an act of true friend and ally. Turkey denied Soviet-Syrian charges that it is preparing to attack Syria. UNITED NATIONS — The Soviet Union accused the United States and Turkey of planning a surprise attack on Syria and offered troops for any

U. N. force to meet it. The Soviet statement came after Syria asked for an emergency U. N. Assembly meeting to investigate charges of an imminent attack by Turkey. AMMAN—Jordan announced full support to Syria in the event of an attack and King Hussein called in the Turkish, American and British ambassadors to tell them. He talked later with Arab envoys. LONDON—British officials professed to see no danger of immediate war and said their units in the Middle East have had no alerts. The British said they have evidence that the Soviet Union, Egypt and Syria are acting in collusion to steam up war fears in order to end Western influence. Moscow radio in a broadcast heard in London told Arabs that "American imperialists" have designs on Syria and that unless the world stops them there is danger of world war. British and European Socialists cold-shouldered Soviet party chief Khrushchev's plea to bolster the Soviet anti-West campaign in the Middle East. CAIRO — Egypt's Middle East News Agency reported a state of emergency declared in the Syrian army. The newly merged Egyptian and Syrian field forces in Syria have Soviet weapons. In Beirut, a spokesman for Arabia's King Saud said he approved the Egyptian reinforcement move and denied Saud had not been informed beforehand. DAMASCUS — Syrian radio and press were filled with new charges of Turkish border concentrations. They also hailed the Soviet Union for preparing world public opinion for Soviet intervention if Turkey attacks.

Reopening Scheduled For Monday

AT LEAST FOUR Monroe County schools will remain closed until Monday as the result of a wave of illness among pupils and staff members. John Mills, principal of Chestnuthill Consolidated School, announced last night that his school, Eldred and Hamilton Elementary Schools will be closed. Harry Young, Polk Consolidated School Principal, also revealed that his school will be closed until Monday. Edward Doney, supervising principal of Hamilton Township School, said his institution will also be closed until Monday. He reported 88 of 238 pupils were absent yesterday. Mills said 307 students out of a total of 806 in the three institutions were absent yesterday, 127 from Chestnuthill, 83 from Eldred and 97 from Polk. Mills emphasized that the closing is an administrative measure, not a health move and said they will reopen Monday. "Of course, if the situation then is not satisfactory, we will re-close," Mills added. C. Willis Duplax, supervising principal for the Pocono Mountains Jointure, said "as far as I know" the schools will remain open. Two Spots He said there were 67 absences yesterday at the Pocono Consolidated School, Tannersville, but only 10 of 240 students at Tobyhanna Township High School, Pocono Pines, were absent. Carl T. Secor, supervising principal of East Stroudsburg public schools, said the worst of the absences in his schools seem to be over and the buildings will remain open. He reported 365 absences in a student body of 2,050 yesterday, compared with 446 on Monday and 420 on Tuesday. Earl F. Groner, superintendent of Stroud Union School District, said his schools will remain open unless there is a drastic change in the situation. He said absences have been continuing at a rate of about 25 percent.

Army Cuts Little Rock Force In Half

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 16 (AP)—The Army today cut in half the number of paratroopers stationed here to enforce court-ordered integration at Little Rock Central High School and sent 500 troops back to their home base by plane and truck. Eight C-123 troop carrier planes, each carrying about 40 men of the 101st Airborne Division, took off from nearby Little Rock Air Force Base for Ft. Campbell, Ky. Other men made the trip in motor vehicles. Secretary of the Army Wilbur Brucker had ordered the reduction Monday "in recognition of the generally orderly situation." Seven Negro children attended integrated classes without incident. No Efforts There were no new efforts to seek a solution of the six-week-old racial dispute, although Gov. Orval Faubus said that he had been in contact with a "representative" of four Southern governors who tried to effect a compromise between Faubus and President Eisenhower two weeks ago. He said the unidentified "representative" was only checking to see if anything had developed. Two Negro children who have been absent with influenza this week indicated that they plan to return to Central tomorrow or Friday. Brucker has ordered 8,500 Arkansas Guardsmen defederalized—with some 1,800 to remain on duty. However, no guardsmen have been released. Little Rock Central attendance was at 1,724 with 239 absent. School officials attributed some of the absences to influenza. Spokesman A spokesman in the office of Supt. Virgil Blossom said that all but eight of the 65 white students who were suspended for walking out in a protest demonstration against Negroes in the school last week have been reinstated. There was no noticeable reduction in the number of troops on duty at the school. About a dozen guardsmen paced in front of the huge bluff brick building. An army spokesman said that there had been no reduction in the number of paratroopers who have been patrolling the halls.

News In Brief

11 Weather Deaths DALLAS, Oct. 16 (AP)—Texas today counted 11 deaths from violent weather since Sunday. Bridge Collapses TAYLOR, B.C., Oct. 16 (AP)—The north span of the weakened 2,200-foot Alaska Highway suspension bridge here crashed into the Peace River today, cutting the 1,500-mile highway at a point 600 miles north of Vancouver, B.C. Money For Agent NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP)—Former spy Reino Heyhanen testified today he pocketed $5,000 allegedly provided by Moscow to try to convert Mrs. Helen Sobell into a Red agent. He said he dug up the money after burying it in the ground. Limit On Comments WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (AP)—The Army, Navy and Air Force have ordered their personnel to limit their comments and discussions of missile or satellite matters, the House Government Information subcommittee said today.

Plane Lands Safely

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16 (AP)—A Navy Constellation transport plane with 68 persons aboard and one of its four engines disabled landed safely at Travis Air Force Base today on a flight from Hawaii.

Prisoners Released

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 16 (AP)—Release of the 725 prisoners at the city prison farm was authorized today in a move to halt a threatening flu epidemic.

Larson To Combat Red Propaganda

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (AP)—President Eisenhower, in a shift of top cold war information posts, today made Arthur Larson his special assistant for countering Russian propaganda on earth satellites and similar developments. To replace Larson as chief of the U.S. Information Agency, Eisenhower chose a career diplomat, George V. Allen, former assistant secretary of state for the Near East and now ambassador to Greece. Presidential press secretary James Hagerty, who announced the changes, was asked whether Larson's new appointment amounted to reviving a psychological warfare job once headed by magazine executive C. D. Jackson. "Partly," Hagerty replied. Hagerty was questioned at his news conference about criticism that the administration failed to recognize the amount of propaganda value the Soviets would derive from their satellite success. He said Larson's job "among other things" will be to help counteract such propaganda. Specialty Larson, a lawyer and professor with a specialty in labor law, has been praised by Eisenhower as a defender of Republican philosophy. He also has been under hot fire from Democrats in Congress because of criticism of the Democratic party he made in a speech in Hawaii, while he was head of USA. The Democratic-controlled Congress voted USA a sharply reduced appropriation and since then there have been rumors Larson would resign. However, when Hagerty was asked whether Larson was being shifted out of USA because of any administration feeling that his usefulness had been impaired, Hagerty replied, "I don't think so." He said specifically the appropriation cut was not a factor. Hagerty said Allen's wide diplomatic experience makes him "a good choice" as USA chief. Allen has served as ambassador to Iran, India, Yugoslavia and NATO.

Queen Elizabeth Receives Royal Welcome From Huge Crowd At Williamsburg

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Oct. 16 (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II arrived to a royal welcome in the United States today and promptly bowed her head in a prayer for a "just and lasting peace." The shy young monarch, the first reigning British Queen to visit North America, started her 6-day U. S. stay in storied Virginia. Ironically it was at Patrick Henry Airport—named after the redoubled firebrand from the land where Britain gained and lost her first colonial possessions in the new world.

'Sputnik' Still Shows Plenty Of Life

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (AP)—Some U. S. scientists figured today there is a lot of life yet remaining in the Russian satellite and the rocket shell accompanying it around the earth. The rocket, said scientists at the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., has at least 100 days of life left while the satellite itself probably will remain aloft considerably longer. Longevity predictions of the Smithsonian scientists conflicted somewhat with the view of one government scientist who has calculated the Soviet satellite might come down within a week. Robert Jastrow, consultant at the Naval Research Laboratory here, said there were indications Sputnik is losing altitude and might plunge earthward to an early death. Rocket Dropping The Smithsonian experts said that the accompanying rocket definitely is losing altitude. As it loses altitude it gains in speed—just as a stone whirling on the end of a string goes faster, relatively, when the string is shortened. Smithsonian officials said the rocket is making each trip around the globe four seconds faster than the previous circle and since it makes 15 trips daily the cumulative effect is a one-minute gain each day. It is on the basis of these calculations, said Dr. J. Allen Hynek, associate director of the Smithsonian observatory, that the rocket shell is given at least 100 more days of life before curving into the earth's dense atmosphere and plunging downward in flames. Moonwatchers at the Harvard Observatory reported a good view today of the rocket's early morning sweep across the sky.

Irony Lost

But the irony was lost on the thousands — estimates centered around 30,000—who turned out to greet her. The airport reception was restrained; as though the crowd felt it had manners to yell at so demure a Queen. But at the Jamestown festival, where she took part in the 350th anniversary of the founding of Britain's first American colony, excitement took hold. At one point, as Elizabeth responded to the official welcome from Virginia's Gov. Thomas B. Stanley, a small section of the crowd jumped the rope barrier for a closer look. Some had been waiting for her there for eight hours. A 21-gun salute boomed at the airport, Elizabeth took the salute, inspected the honor guard and her husband, Prince Philip, declared: "We are... particularly happy that our first stop is in the beautiful old dominion state."

Check Reported On Unions

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP)—The New York Times said tonight federal income tax authorities are making a national check on the expense allowances and bank deposits of union officials. The inquiry was said to include unions not investigated by the Senate Rackets Committee as well as those which have been investigated.

Soviet Union Makes Appeal To U.N.

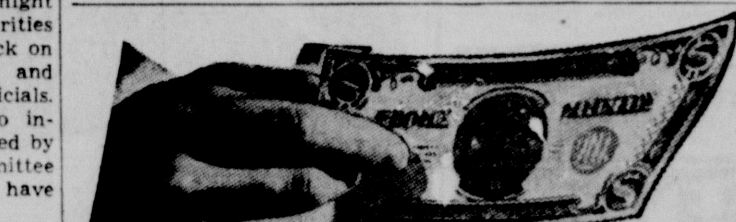

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Oct. 16 (AP)—The Soviet Union called on the U. N. today to halt a surprise attack on Syria allegedly planned by the United States and Turkey. Russia offered to join other U. N. members in supplying military forces to meet such an attack. The Russians charged that the United States in urging Turkey to launch an attack with "lightning speed" in order to confront the U. N. with a situation whereby the world organization "may have no time to take steps to prevent aggression." Developments The Soviet accusation came on the heels of these swift developments in the U. N. on the explosive Middle East situation: 1. Syria informed U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld that an attack by Turkey was imminent. Syria requested the 82-nation General Assembly be called into session immediately to appoint a U. N. commission to investigate the situation on the tense Turkish-Syrian frontier. 2. The United States quickly endorsed the move to have the Assembly consider the situation in the Middle East. "A prompt investigation of the developments should help to ease tensions as well as to clarify who it is that threatens peace in the area," a spokesman for the U. S. delegation at the U. N. said.

Railroads Near Record

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP)—The railroad industry stands an excellent chance of setting a new safety record this year, leading rail executives were told today. The prediction was made at the annual presentation of the E. H. Harriman Memorial Awards to railroads with outstanding safety records. Medals Gold Harriman medals were won by the Union Pacific, the Chicago & Eastern Illinois, the Bangor & Aroostook. Certificates of commendation were presented to nine railroads, two switching and terminal companies and the Pullman Co.

Sign Agreement

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP)—Actress Faye Emerson and musician Skitch Henderson have signed a separation agreement, the two television personalities announced tonight.

Pre-School Center Begins Fourth Year

THIS MONTH the Barrett Community Club Pre-School Center began its fourth year of operation.

Two years ago when the Barrett Community Club was formed members of the club wished to have a major project which would benefit not only members but the community as well. It was decided to start a Pre-School center which was needed in this area.

The first chairman, Mrs. John Rolfe, and her committee, went about the difficult task of forming the school.

Acquiring an adequate enrollment was almost as difficult as forming the school itself, for there were many people who didn't think a small woman's club could operate a school.

Each year the school enrollment improved and the present enrollment is 31 pupils.

To be able to handle as many children as possible, separate sessions were set up with the younger group, the three year and seven months old children in four and seven months old going to Tuesday and Thursday mornings and the older group attending on Monday, Wednesday and/or Friday mornings.

Dr. Bennett Strait, child psychologist for Monroe County schools, will visit the school on Monday morning, Oct. 28. All students will be examined on that day.

The Pre-School Center emphasizes the well rounded development of the pre-school child (physical, mental, social and emotional) and sincerely hopes that with home and school working together a sound beginning for a happy and purposeful life can be made.

A general meeting of parents and the teacher, who is Mrs. Jean Burke, will be held approximately every three months. Last year outdoor equipment was purchased and every year additional supplies are bought for inside play and work.

Among other things the children learn are the Pledge of Allegiance, how to write their names and how to get along with other children.

The Pre-School committee for this year is: Mrs. William Rogers, chairman; Mrs. Richard Lumsden, treasurer; Mrs. Richard Price and Mrs. William Fisher, School advisors are Mrs. John Wolfe and Mrs. Leon Meyung Jr.

Kresgeville

Mrs. W. E. Andrews

THE WEST END Republican Club will hold its monthly meeting in the auditorium of the Polk Twp. School on Friday night, with county and local candidates present as speakers. A light lunch will be served after the meeting. The public is invited to attend. The meeting will convene at 8 p.m.

The monthly meeting of the Polk Twp. PTA will be held in the school on Monday night, Oct. 21, with the president, Robert Dunlap, in charge.

Due to sickness in the family of the State officials, who were scheduled to pay an official visit to the Auxiliary of the SUVCW Camp 58 on Oct. 11, the meeting was postponed until Friday night, Oct. 25, at 7:30 at which time all officers and members of the camp are urged to be present.

A three-act comedy, entitled "Everything Happens To Me" will be presented to the public by the Senior Class of the Polk High School in the school auditorium on Friday, Nov. 15, at 8 p.m.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Kreimoyer were Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Smith, Palmerton; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kemmerer, Wind Gap; Mr. and Mrs. William Kreidler, Bethlehem, and Mr. and Mrs. Asa Schnell, Union Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Peppe and children, of Pen Argyl, called on Mr. and Mrs. George Burkhardt.

Mr. and Mrs. William Chamberlain, of Palmerton, were the dinner guests of their niece and nephew, Mabel and Claude Kunkle, over the weekend.

Bangor Ward Plans For Yule Party

BANGOR—Arrangements for the annual Christmas Party for children of the ward were made Tuesday night when the Second Ward Community Assn. convened at the South Bangor fire hall. Thursday, Dec. 19, was set as the date.

Melvin Blake, president, assigned Herbert Fisher and James Hamm to the tree committee for the fete and Clyde Grigg, Lester Evans, Clarence Chamberlin and Jay Albert to the decorating committee.

A bake sale to be conducted in the near future also was planned. Mrs. Herman Edwards, Mrs. Eleanor Chamberlin and Mrs. Delmar Moysey were appointed to the committee in charge.

Announcement was made that the addition to the building housing association equipment at the playground has been completed. The next meeting was scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 17.

Theodore Schwanda, secretary, and Earl Smith, treasurer, gave reports.

Spanking In Editorial

WARSAW, Oct. 16 (P)—The newspaper Express Wieczorny gave an editorial spanking this week to Jozef Niesiolek of Poznan for international impudence.

It printed a piece from the British Yorkshire Evening Post saying Jozef found a balloon sent out in a race from Southport, Lancashire, and won a fountain pen worth $5.60 but wrote back asking instead for tea, gloves and a car or motorcycle.

The Polish paper added: "His impudence shocked even the phlegmatic British. His appeal can bring forth only the contempt and condemnation of our readers."

Women In News

VIENNA, Oct. 16 (P)—An international congress in session here on criminology of traffic accidents was told women drivers comprise 4.5 per cent of all motorists but their accident rate is only 3.3 per cent of the accident total. But, the congress also was told women jay-walkers are to blame for 63 per cent of all accidents caused by pedestrians.

What Is Planning?

"Just what is regional planning? is the question asked of us a number of times lately.

Someone has defined it as a means through which the people in a specific region may insure desirable living and working conditions for present and future generations.

A regional plan is a broad framework upon which may be constructed the future development of such fundamental physical facilities as:

1. Transportation (highways, railroads, airports).
2. Communication (telephone, telegraph, radio, television).
3. Power (heat, light).
4. Sanitation (sewage and garbage disposal, drainage).
5. Water supply.
6. Parks, recreation areas.
7. Industrial, mercantile and residential zoning.

Planning, it can be seen, is the means by which land values can be preserved through proper use and location of necessary facilities.

An ideal regional plan can be accomplished only through the cooperative efforts of all governmental civic agencies concerned.

Regional planning is an orderly attempt not only to arrest, but also to correct as far as is possible, haphazard developments resulting from failure to visualize the collective present and future needs.

Ask yourself what should be done to make this a better community. Think seriously about the future and decide whether the county should be allowed to grow and develop in a haphazard manner or—with the help of planning and zoning—in an orderly fashion.

You be the judge whether sound, intelligent planning should be brought into play as fast as humanly possible. The alternative is to let the county drift along with no regard for preserving the beauty of the area, nor for the rights of property owners, for maintaining land values, for developing housing, industries, recreational and educational facilities, businesses and municipal improvements.

No progressive, wide-awake community—whether it be a borough or township or an entire county—can afford to ignore what planning offers from a long-range, common-sense view. We would be acting wisely to adopt a planning program without further delay.

Disposal Of Fallen Leaves

From now until the last leaf of Autumn falls from the trees, there is a danger from fires not present at any other time of the year.

Piles of leaves dry out quickly in the bright sun of Indian Summer. The wind whips them into protected spots alongside of buildings. The leaves cover the streets, lawns and fields. Care must be exercised in burning leaves, dry grass and weeds lest the fire sweep out of control and endanger property.

The safest practice is to rake leaves often and burn in smaller fires. Don't heap them up like a haystack. Don't use the paved streets for an incinerator. Find a spot in your own yard. When the fire is going, stay with it. Keep children away.

Burning damp leaves only annoys the next door neighbor. Wait until they are dry. You have no cause to smoke anyone out of his house.

The smart leaf burner keeps his fire confined in a wire burner. He has water handy in a bucket or a hose to take care of any emergencies. Leaf fires can spread in wind at amazing speed. Be careful at all times.

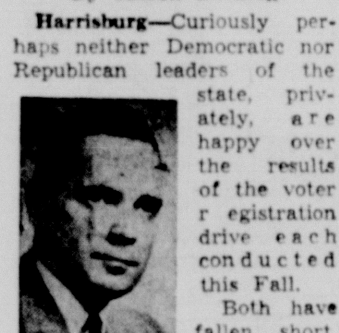

Perhaps the wisest person is the one who pulverizes his leaves and deposits them on a compost pile where they will rot over the Winter and provide good mulch for next year's garden.

On the other hand, the fellow most despised is he who does absolutely nothing with his leaves. He never even rakes them, leaving the task of gathering them to the wind which delivers them free of charge to the nicely kept yards throughout the block. This makes Autumn a melancholy time indeed.

The Pennsylvania Story

Neither Party Happy

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg—Curiously perhaps neither Democratic nor Republican leaders of the state, privately, are happy over the results of the voter registration drive each conducted this Fall.

Both have fallen short of their desired goal. Both are scanning with an anxious eye the results in relation to upcoming 1958 and the gubernatorial-senatorial campaigns.

With the books closed now on new registrations prior to the November 5 local elections and with the statistical story available from the State Elections Bureau, several facts are standouts which illustrate why chiefs of both parties are in little mood to cut jubilant victory capers.

Both parties picked up new registrations — Republicans around 55,000 and Democrats around 99,000. However in a sense each gain offsets the other. This is the reason: Pennsylvania Republicans walked into the registration drive period with an edge—not much in comparison with previous high riding GOP years, but still an edge. Pavement-pounding Democrats were able to chip the edge by a net of around 44,000—not much of a critical factor when it is remembered that combined registrations throughout the state exceed the 5,000,000 mark.

Republicans still retain a lead of around 338,000—a far cry from their once habitual lead in excess of 1,000,000, but under the circumstances still a healthy lead.

On a comparative rather than strategic basis however, right now Republicans and Democrats of the Keystone State are nearer to a balance in the state than they have been within living memory. It is only an interesting sidelight and does not turn an election either way.

Democrats publicly had proclaimed their expected intent of writing in 150,000 new party registrants but actually had been hoping to knock out the GOP edge.

That they slipped on both scores is evidenced by the less than 100,000 new registrants they were able to corral. For them the registration drive this year was an all-out affair —with reports common that applicants for state payroll jobs needed the names of ten new registrants to be considered.

Another factor to be considered in looking over the Democratic gains is the fact that the gains came largely in areas where they were already strong rather than hitting in seriously in Republican strongholds.

For Republicans the picture is little if any brighter. Top party strategists around Capitol Hill are miffed by the failure of field forces to turn in a better score board.

GOP leaders actually had been hoping for a much better showing. What went wrong they do not know as yet. They can perhaps gain small solace from the fact that the party in power in the Governor's Office habitually in the past has had an increase in party numbers.

But Republican leaders are looking beyond that—back for example to 1954 when they enjoyed a registration edge over Democrats of nearly one million, and still lost the gubernatorial election of that year.

From that registration margin the GOP edge dropped to slightly under 500,000 in last year's presidential run-off—and now down to around 338,000.

It is still a lead but to GOPsters not a comfortable one. The off-year election schedule this fall unquestionably had its effect on both parties. The big test for Republicans and Democrats alike on the registration front comes next year—and both are girding for it now.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Intellectual Vs. University

Difference of opinion is the spice of the intellectual life. In a free society, debate, discussion, even violent diversities are regarded as normal; in a monolithic society the truth is handed down from on top and those who disagree are outcasts to be spurned and spewed by their associates.

Father Hugh Halton, Roman Catholic chaplain of Princeton University, has thus been excommunicated by that emporium of knowledge.

Were Father Halton merely a priest, the university authorities might have held that despite his cloth, he is unworthy of association with men of intellectual attainments. Unfortunately for the record, Father Halton is also an intellectual with a massive array of degrees, B.A., M.A., M.Lit., D.Phil. He is a graduate of Providence College, Harvard University, Oxford (England). He is a trained, if not disciplined, philosopher, historian, student of law, and licentiate in sacred theology. He is the first Roman Catholic priest to have taken a doctorate at the law faculty in Oxford since the Reformation.

Since such is his record, no one can withhold Dr. Halton's claims to being an intellectual and therefore the Dominican Order, of which he is a member, sent him to Princeton to look after the Catholic students there.

True, Princeton used to be Presbyterian and was actually founded with the object of training Presbyterian clergymen, but it has become utterly non-sectarian and many Catholics attend it. Therefore there is a Catholic chaplain, despite the fact that since 1880, 57 percent of the Catholic students at Princeton have become "lapsed" Catholics, which means that the social and intellectual atmosphere is antagonistic to this particular religion.

So the Dominicans sent there a top-notch intellectual, with a plethora of degrees, disciplined in the humanities, and with a fighter and a debater to knock the spots out of the Devil.

The business of a priest is not only to worship God according to the traditions and ritual of his church, but also to defend the faith. A time-serving, gluttonous, easy-going priest, in these times, is an anachronism.

Dr. Halton was never forgiven for this offense and now he has been excommunicated by the university.

On Broadway —by Walter Winchell

Cast of Characters: In the Royal Entourage: Press Secretary Comdr. Colville (Her Majesty's Jim Hagerly) writes for British intelligence under the name "Bertmeus" . . . Lord Plunkett, the Queen's querry, succeeded to his title as a small boy. He once was rumored one of Margaret's interests . . . Her Majesty's physician, Col. Ainslie. He accompanied her Maj's parents on their tour of Canada in 1939 . . . Philip's Man Friday, James Orr. The only member of the royal party without a title. He is 39, an attractive bachelor.

Salutes in Our Alley: Baseball fanatics were gloomily gabbling about the defeat of the ism and surely has no place in a university where minds are keen and the debate exciting. Dr. Halton founded the Aquinas Center, named after the erudite St. Thomas, also a Dominican, whose intellectual attainments remodelled Catholic thinking just prior to the Reformation and serves as a guide for current Roman Catholic philosophy, except for those who need no philosophy but live by faith alone, of whom there are many in all creeds.

From the Aquinas Center at Princeton, Father Halton held forth against such professors as he felt were corrupting the intellects and the morals of Catholic students and who imperilled their souls by creating an atmosphere of sin. So far as I can see, it was Dr. Halton's legitimate business.

One of his particular devils has been Professor Emeritus Walter Terence Stace, former Stuart professor of metaphysics, who wrote an article, "Man Against Darkness," in which he sets forth his views:

"For my part, I believe in no religion at all . . . Since the world is not ruled by a spiritual being, but rather by blind forces, there cannot be any ideals, moral or otherwise, in the universe outside us. Our ideals, therefore, must proceed from our own minds; they are our own inventions. Thus the world which surrounds us is nothing but an immense spiritual emptiness. It is a dead universe . . . purposeless, senseless, meaningless. Nature is nothing but matter in motion . . ."

This point of view is given to youngsters who are in no position to attack a learned professor or to defend the moral structure of the society from which they came.

Father Halton took on Professor Stace and disturbed Princeton no end, because the parents began to hear about what their sons were getting for their money. But his great crime was when he put the quietus on Alger Hiss. (Aaron Burr attended this university, but let us not practice guilt by association!)

Hiss was invited to speak at Princeton and a big hall was hired for a large audience. Father Halton took a hall for the day before and had William Edwards of the Chicago Tribune to meet the students and to give them a straight news report on Hiss, whose meeting the next day was an unbelievable flop.

Dr. Halton was never forgiven for this offense and now he has been excommunicated by the university.

Yankees after the Giants and Dodgers jilted New York for the West Coast. "It's gonna be an awful dull Summer next year," mourned one . . . "Oh, I dunno," chuckled another, "there's always girls" . . . Impresario Luben Vichey was asked: "How long does it take on Broadway to become a celebrity?" . . . "Not as long," was the retort proper, "as it does to become a success."

Memos of a Midnighter: Bela Darvi and Juliette Greco (a H'wood exec's past and present) had a hair-pulling match in a Paris restaurant . . . The Orson Beans aren't giving it much of a chance . . . Elizabeth will wear specially made shoes (of felt and sponge linings) so her tootzies won't weary shaking paws with all those name-droppers . . . Movies must be better than ever. Technicolor pays 74 percent dividend . . . George Raft's confessed sinfulness in the Satevpost is paying off . . . Booked for a Gisele McKenzie program.

Robert S. Allen Reports . . .

Turkey, Israel Seek Aid

Washington, Oct. 16 — The U. S. is weighing two new highly meaningful moves in the again-strife-threatened Middle East.

These significant military and economic measures are:

Urgent Turkish request for 150 latest - model (F-100, F-102, F-104) jet fighters, for the express purpose of "closing Russia's backdoor air routes to Communist-dominated Syria."

$150,000,000 to Israel in loans, grants and other economic aid.

Turkey is seeking these "century series" planes as part of the armaments it receives in the dual role of southern anchor of NATO's defensive system in Europe and as a member of the Baghdad Pact in the Near East.

For months, Russia has persistently violated Turkish Territory to fly planes and personnel to Syria. Turkey has protested repeatedly, but to no avail.

The powerful U. S. interceptors would enable Turkey to back up these complaints with the means of directly challenging the Soviet's high-handed antics. At present, Turkey lacks the jets capable of doing that.

Three different proposals are involved in White House and State Department deliberations pertaining to Israel:

$75,000,000 loan by the Export-Import Bank for irrigation and related developments—a project which has been pending for some time; $25,000,000 in grants under the foreign aid budget; and the purchase with Israeli currency of $50,000,000 of surplus U. S. farm products —with these so-called "counterpart funds" being spent in Israel for economic purposes.

The Administration contemplates no change in its two-year policy of withholding arms from Israel. That stand is unchanged.

Good Behavior — Also, final action on the $150,000,000 economic aid is largely dependent on Israel's "keeping the peace."

That's what Senate Foreign Relations Committee members have been informed in response to inquiries about this matter. State Department authorities have told them Israel has been advised, in effect, as follows:

"If you want U. S. aid, then you will have to refrain from further hostilities with the Arabs. More fighting only plays into Russia's hands. That is what the Soviet is trying to stir up all the time. Therefore, it is incumbent on you not to rock the boat. If you do, the U. S. cannot help you."

It has also been indicated to the senators that the $75,000,000 Export-Import Bank loan is likely to be the first of the three proposals approved.

In addition to flying MIG-17s over sparsely-populated and mountainous Eastern Turkey, Russia is also operating what amounts to a twice-weekly plane service from Sophia to Damascus via this illegal route.

Numerous Soviet officers, instructors, technicians, spies and other agents are transported in this authorized "backdoor short cut."

The Reds are now in the process of building up five MIG-17 squadrons in Syria.

They are based at Sahl Es Samra, Damascus-Mezze, El Rasafa and Hama. Also under construction are four airfields near the Turkish border.

Colonel Musafir Asasa, Syrian air commander, recently returned with 37 other pilots

Try and Stop Me —by Bennet Cerf

Ogden Nash confesses, "At the age of 43 I was stage struck, and that caused an odd bit of whimsy. The Sweet Bye and Bye," which said by-odds on Broadway in exactly ten days. At one performance, the leading lady, looking through stage curtain peep hole, murmured, "The audience appears to be in a nasty mood tonight. 'Don't worry,' the leading man reassured her. 'We'll probably outnumber them!'" from extensive training in Russia. Some of these pilots were given special training in all-weather jets.

Herb Stein defines a burlesque censor as one who "always has a grind to axe."

Bulgarian and other satellite pilots are assigned to all the Syrian squadrons. Asasa's main assistant is a Bulgarian.

Old Story — In the elaborate celebrating of Spanish dictator Franco's 21st anniversary in power, not a word was said or published about the more than $1 billion the U. S. has poured into that country in military and economic aid in the last few years. This extraordinary silence was reported to both the State Department and Pentagon by American diplomatic and military authorities in Spain. Particularly noted was a speech by Franco in which he acclaimed Spanish economic progress, without the slightest hint of the huge contribution made to that by the U. S. . . . The Library of Congress has a lot of Russian periodicals and other publications it's anxious to get rid of because of lack of space. Offers for the more than 40,000 items should be made to the Exchange and Gift Division, Library of Congress, Washington 25, D. C. . . . An Intelligence report to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee says that, despite Khrushchev's prominence and loud talking, he is still far from possessing the late Stalin's power. States this report, "Khrushchev, unlike Stalin, does not seem to control personally the secret police apparatus. For the moment at least, his power seems to rest to a varying and uncertain degree on the Army, the Party Central Committee, and the dynamism of some of policies. Some of the swings of more recent Soviet policy are probably due in part at least to the variations in this balance of internal power. The present line seems to be staked on getting more out of the Soviet industrial machine by decentralization and on better feeding of the Soviet population through new agricultural methods. The success or failure of these policies may well decide the fate of the current rulers."

From The Readers

Dear Editor:

Through my own direct inquiry, I was notified last week by the County Commissioners Office, that my name will appear as a candidate for the School Board of Barrett Township in the forthcoming election in November. I inquired about this because I was informed indirectly that my name was going to appear on the ballot.

This was a bit difficult to understand, since I declined the nomination in the May Primary. I was asked earlier in the year if I would consent to "run" again, and I could do nothing other than decline owing to personal and business reasons, feeling that I could not adequately serve the community, in the way which is expected, for another six years. I now find out five months after the Primary that I received two write-in votes, making me eligible for the nomination. Two is considered a majority over each of two other persons who received the same recognition. Because of this I have now been informed, owing to the lateness of my protest, that my name cannot be withdrawn from the printed November ballot.

Please understand that I was not officially advised after this majority vote of 2 was registered in May. Neither was I officially informed thereafter that because of this write-in vote that I would be obligated to run for this office. In this case, I believe that I should have been asked for an opinion as to whether I would reconsider running again under the circumstances.

I have now been informed that the ballots have been printed and my name cannot be physically withdrawn from the forthcoming election. From this ballot anybody can assume that I desire to "run" again. In other words, I am now running for an office which I must decline if elected.

The prospect of my being elected is quite remote judging from the qualifications of my good friends whose names appeared on the Primary Ticket, but I have been given to understand that if I am elected, all I can do is resign and then let an appointed person fill the vacancy. This, I feel, would be very bad for Barrett Township, or any other School District. To serve well, in any municipality, one should receive a vote of confidence from the community, and an appointment could meet with disapproval.

All this can be summed up this way—

1. I declined to run for a second term in the primaries.
2. I was not notified about the write-in vote being in my favor.
3. I was not informed that my name would appear on the forthcoming General Election ballot in competition to my well-chosen neighbors.
4. I believe that any vote for me will deprive other candidates of that vote.
5. I must refuse the office if elected. In this case, someone, perhaps not to your liking will be appointed. This could prove detrimental to our school system.
6. I do not believe that election returns published in local newspapers should be sufficient notice to inform persons who receive a majority of write-in votes in the Primary election. If one fails to see this notice, such as I did, and one does not withdraw his or her name before a certain deadline, then he ends up "in my shoes."

From this experience, I gather that anyone can get on the ballot for the General Election, if a vacancy exists in the Primaries within the party, provided he can "muster-up" sufficient write-in votes. Even he or she could write-in his or her own name and get on the ticket and deprive candidates, who are judged earlier to be better qualified, of legitimate votes. This person could be elected to an office on a straight partyline vote, and yet he could have been rejected as a poor candidate by the nominating committee. One or two write-ins is sufficient to get on the ticket, just as long as it is a majority of all those who are cast.

I do not feel that 1, 2, 3, 4 or 5 write-in votes at a Primary justifies the nomination of anybody for a General Election in Barrett Township. This does not reflect the attitude of the public here when other candidates names appear on the ballot and receive hundreds of votes. Certainly one could not say that he or she was being "drafted" with such an infinite percentage.

I can only say that those of you in Barrett Township have well qualified candidates to fill the vacancies which will exist at the expiration of Mr. Signlin's and my terms of office in November. In the meantime, please bear in mind that we did not feel that we could efficiently serve again for a second term of office.

I do not feel that my name which will appear on the November ballot should deprive the chosen candidates of any votes, and in thanking my two Primary supporters, I trust they will understand that I will not be able to serve and fulfill their confidence in me.

H. IRWIN SHINNEN

Dear Mr. Editor:

I see where the boss of the Republican party is making fantastic predictions again, in regards to the outcome of the Judge Election. Before the primary he predicted his candidate would win both the Democratic and Republican nominations, regardless of who would seek election on the Democratic ticket. This reckless prediction will again be wrong, after the fifth of November: Mr. Russell Mervine will be the new judge.

Mr. Ben Williams and Mr. Cliff Gilling feel that they will create a mob hysteria, to the local tax payer. Do they think the voter will go and vote on untrue issues? Please, Mr. Local taxpayer, let's look at the facts.

In the October 10th Daily Record Mr. Gilling suggests that the local taxpayer will be paying for two judges if Mr. Mervine is elected. I know, as I feel sure Mr. Gilling does, that the local taxpayer does not pay the judge at time of retirement.

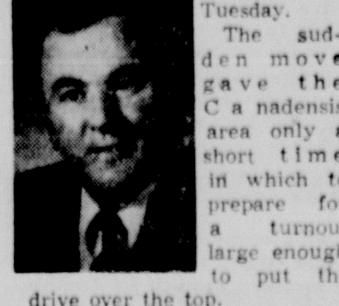

The judge is paid by the Commonwealth and "the ex-judge gets his pension pay from the state employees retirement fund. The retirement fund is created by state employees including judges contributing to the fund while they are employed by the Commonwealth." (Quote from the 1956 Pennsylvania Manual.)

Bloodmobile To Visit In Barrett

by Jim Riley

A visit by the Red Cross Bloodmobile was suddenly scheduled for Barrett Township next Tuesday.

The sudden move gave the C a nadensis area only a short time in which to prepare for a turnout large enough to put the drive over the top.

A group of men and women are now at work ironing out the kinks and lining up a large number of donors.

Chip in and lend a hand—it's a short notice, but the drive can be successful.

The blood donor program is still of major importance.

Leonard Randolph, Daily Record reporter, was recently mentioned in a story written by Richard Watts, drama critic for the New York Post.

It dealt with the name for an actor submitted by "Randy," who is a resident of the Snyder'sville area.

Herb and Margaret Rupprecht, 118 Maple Ave., East Stroudsburg, are currently vacationing in Canada.

Some people have all the luck.

Mrs. Ruth Brown, 526 Main St., Stroudsburg, is now on a visit to Boston.

Made the trip by plane, yet.

Mrs. Clair Bloss, Tannersville, celebrated a birthday on Tuesday of this week.

Belated congratulations are the order of the day.

Members of the Tannersville Brownie Troop are now hard at work selling calendars.

They began the chore on Tuesday and the project will continue until the present supply is exhausted.

Miss Beverly Gail McDowell, 2124 N. 5th St., Stroudsburg, is a member of the Beaver College field hockey squad. This is her first year playing with the scarlet and grey.

During the hockey season, Beaver is scheduled to play Gettysburg, the Alumnac, Swarthmore, Temple, Drexel, Ursinus, and West Chester State Teachers College.

Beaver's varsity team has lost only two hockey games in five seasons.

Beverly is a freshman at Beaver and is a member of the Health and Physical Education department.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Byrd McDowell and a graduate of Stroudsburg High School.

BORACE G. HELLER,

Eastern Poconos Launch Program

ECHO LAKE—Eastern Poconos Resort Assn. launched its program for the 1958 season Tuesday night at a general meeting at Echo Valley Lodge.

Reports on the season just closed were received from a number of resort operators. All reported an excellent season, officers of the association said.

William J. Altier, of Altier's Inn, was returned as president for another term at the annual election. Also reelected were C. Elwood Huffman, Mountain Lake House, treasurer, and Alfred H. Baxter, Baxter's Guest House, secretary.

Elected vice president was Harry Ahnert, of the Fernwood. Returned to the board of directors were Van D. Vetter, Albert Rosenberger, Joseph Farda and Mrs. Irene Cramer.

Reelected as voting delegates to the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau were Altier, Huffman, Ahnert, Rosenberger, Jack Shinn and Mrs. Elsie Pipher.

Alternate delegates: Raymond Rothlein, Adolph Schmitt, Walter Eschenbach, Fran Shinn and Farda.

It was unanimously agreed that the road signs designating scenic drives within the area have been very helpful to incoming guests and tourists.

The association therefore voted to reface and repaint the signs.

President Altier noted the need for a new area map and said he will appoint a committee to study the matter and to present suggestions at the next meeting.

Members agreed that the dues structure and participation with the Vacation Bureau should remain the same for the coming season.

Eaton Named To Top Fraternity

JOHN CHARLES Eaton, East Stroudsburg, has been elected to the Princeton University chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

PBK is the highest ranked honorary fraternity in the United States in which membership is based on academic achievement.

News of Eaton's election to the society was received here this week by Ralph O. Burrows, principal of East Stroudsburg High School. Eaton is a graduate of the local school.

Letter

A letter from the National Alumni Assn. of Princeton University notified Burrows that Eaton had been so honored. The letter also conveyed the congratulations of the Alumni Assn. on the part of all Princeton graduates.

The Princeton chapter of PBK also notified Burrows of the honor bestowed on Eaton and cited him for his "record of distinguished academic excellence" at the school.

Eaton is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Harold C. Eaton, East Stroudsburg. His father is pastor of the borough Methodist Church.

Rail Fireman Finds Body

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Oct. 16 (AP)—A railroad fireman found an unidentified man dead on the Wilkes-Barre Connecting Railroad overpass at Kingston today.

Police theorized the victim was killed when he fell from a north-bound freight train. The body was discovered by C. W. Dixon, a fireman for the Delaware and Hudson Railroad.

News Dealer Sees 'Sputnik' In Area Skies

FRANK WAGNER, news dealer at the Lackawanna Railroad station, reported he watched the Russian earth satellite early yesterday morning as it moved across the sky.

He said he first saw it in the northwestern sky about 6 a. m. and watched it as it moved slowly but steadily eastward. At one time, he said, it was almost directly overhead.

Wagner explained that what he saw resembled a flare or bright star. It was a clear morning, with the moon and a number of stars plainly visible.

Although it was about an hour before sunrise here, the object he sighted shone brightly in the rays of the sun. The satellite's great distance from the earth made this phenomenon possible.

Varicose Veins Book Available

VARICOSE VEINS—an affliction both ancient and widespread—could be partially eliminated if more people would use common sense.

This is a fundamental theory of a new booklet published by the American Heart Assn. It is being distributed in this area by the Monroe County Heart Committee.

The booklet points out that walking upright makes it necessary for the blood in man's lower extremities to flow back to the heart against the pull of gravity.

In persons who have inherited weak veins or whose occupations keep them on their feet for long hours (such as housewives, policemen, elevator operators, nurses, dentists or sales clerks) the thin-walled surface veins of the legs and their delicate valves are not always able to withstand the strain imposed by gravity.

Need

Although the booklet emphasizes the need to consult a physician as soon as varicose veins are suspected, it points out further that many practical measures may now be taken to help minimize the bulging leg veins.

Here are a few of the helpful tips contained in the booklet which, the AHA says, should help prevent varicose veins or swelling of legs and ankles:

Avoid standing or sitting still in one place for long periods. This tends to make the blood stagnate in the lower legs and may lead to complications.

On a train or plane trip, get out of your seat and walk about every half hour or so. On long auto trips, stop now and then and stretch.

When watching television, put your feet on a stool; get up and walk around at least once an hour. (The booklet adds: If you can put your feet on your desk at work, so much the better for you.)

Huge Claim On File

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 16 (AP)—Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La.) said today he had been informed the U.S. comptroller general has formally referred to the Department of Justice for "appropriate action" a government claim for two million dollars against the General Motors Corp.

The claim involves a contract with the Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac division "for a quantity of F84F airplanes."

Hebert, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee for special investigation, said this contract was the subject of recent exhaustive hearings by the committee.

"In a statement, he said, 'The comptroller general has informed the Department of Justice that the claim against General Motors is made on grounds of 'misrepresentations' of cost prices to the Air Force.'"

Arrangements will be announced by the Kresge Funeral Home, Brodheadsville.

Junior Chamber To Present Annual Halloween Parade

POCONO Mountain Junior Chamber of Commerce will again stage a Halloween Parade for the Stroudsburgs this year. It will be sponsored by the Businessmen's Association of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg.

According to the Jaycees committee in charge of arrangements, the parade will be held Thursday night, Oct. 31 at 7 p. m. Units will form in the blocked-off section between the Pocono Creek permanent bridge site and Ninth and Main Sts.

Line of march will be down Main St. to East Stroudsburg and around the borough circle with the probable disbanding point on Crystal St.

A large number of prizes will be awarded. There will be awards for individual marchers and for floats. Musical organizations will also receive prizes.

All persons—individuals, groups or local bands—are invited to join the parade. Any organization is eligible to take part.

Persons desiring more information should contact a Jaycee member or any business house in the two boroughs.

Jaycees held a strategy meeting last night and announced that they hope the 1957 parade will be one of the largest of its kind ever held in the two boroughs for Halloween.

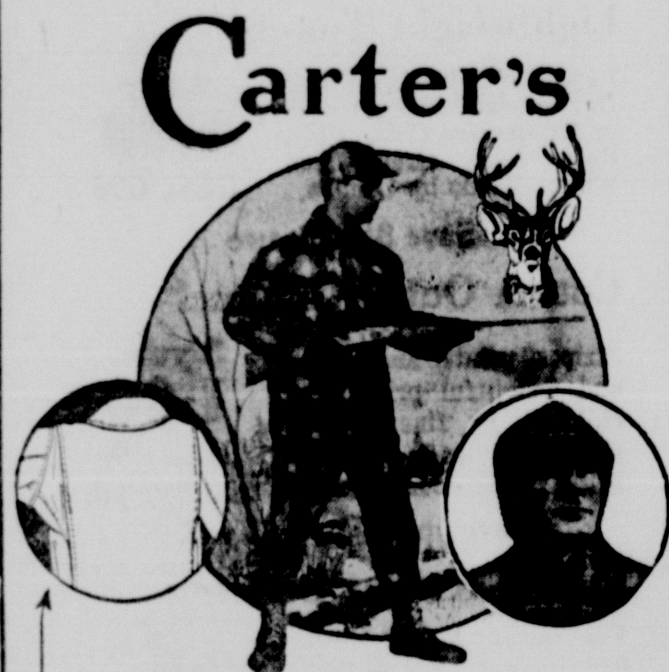

Two Calls For Statements

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (AP)—The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for a statement of the condition of all national banks at the close of business Friday, Oct. 11.

The Federal Reserve Board also called for a condition statement from its member banks as of the same day. There was no call from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., which requires condition statements less frequently.

Decline Halts Drive By Stock Market

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP)—A quiet decline today cut short the stock market's two-day recovery drive after last week's huge losses.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell $1.00 to $161.00 with the industrials down $2.20, the rails down $1.30 and the utilities up 30 cents.

Of 1,159 issues traded, declines totaled 634 and advances 283. There were 76 new lows for the year and no new highs.

Volume was the lowest of the past eight sessions, totaling 2,050,000 shares compared with 2,620,000 yesterday.

Of the 15 most active stocks, 10 fell, 4 rose and one was unchanged.

Most Active

The most active stock was Ventres-Camaguey Sugar, up 1/4 at 13 1/4 on 49,200 shares. Second was Texas Gulf Sulphur, up 1/4 at 19 1/4 on 29,900 shares. Third was North American Aviation, off 1/4 at 25 1/4 on 28,000 shares.

Next came Loew's, off 1/4 at 14, and Bethlehem Steel off 1/4 at 40 1/4. Some recent favorites heavily traded on the downside today were Martin Co., off 1 1/2, Boeing, off 1 and General Dynamics off 1 1/2.

U. S. Lines rose 1 1/2 on a good earnings report. Youngstown Sheet was ahead early in the day on similar news but closed with a loss of 1/4.

Some of the wider losses included U. S. Steel 2, Lukens Steel 2 1/4, Chrysler 2, Caterpillar 2 1/4, Douglas Aircraft 1 1/2, Anaconda 1 1/2, Kennecott 1 1/2, International Nickel 2 1/4, Allied Chemical 2 1/4, Gulf Oil 2 1/4 and Baltimore & Ohio 1 1/4.

Rise

Goodyear rose 1, Goodrich 1 1/4, Union Carbide 1/4, American Telephone 1/4, Southern California Edison 1 1/2, and Standard Oil of Indiana 1/4.

Prices also were generally lower on the American Stock Exchange where volume dwindled to 80,000 shares from 820,000 yesterday. Among the losers were International Petroleum, Pacific Petroleum, British Petroleum, Imperial Oil, Hazeltine and Molybdenum.

Corporate bonds were mostly steady.

U. S. government bonds were narrowly mixed in slow dealings over the counter.

INDUSTRIAL LIGHTING — Three of the major figures in the Industrial Lighting course which featured its final session last night are pictured discussing a point. The trio, left to right, is made up of Ralph W. Ellenberger, sales representative for Pennsylvania Power and Light Co.; Sherwood Cota, technical advisor, and David Jones, sales representative.

Industrial Lighting Course Ends

THE INDUSTRIAL Lighting course of study held for the past seven weeks at the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. building in Stroudsburg came to a close last night.

Basic purpose of the program was to show industries and commercial business places the importance of proper lighting.

Fundamentals

Fundamentals of lighting, thought of lighting and the installation of lighting was discussed during the course.

A supper was served after the study course last night.

College Sets Dates For Production

EAST STROUDSBURG State Teachers College students take on one of their stiffest theatrical assignments next month when they produce "Come Back, Little Sheba" by William Inge.

The play—one of the greatest dramatic successes in American theatre during the past decade—will be directed by Ralph Smith, a member of the speech department faculty at the local college.

"Come Back, Little Sheba" was highly successful both as a play on Broadway and as a motion picture—both starring Shirley Booth. It will be presented two nights—Thursday and Friday, Nov. 21 and 22 in the college auditorium. The public is invited to attend and urged to support the college drama workshop.

Story

The play tells the story of an alcoholic who is embittered because he was forced to leave school to marry a loving, but frowsy girl. Bruce Shellenberger of Enola is the alcoholic and Sue Van Zant of Holmes will play the wife.

Plagued by dreams of a career he can never have, the man—who is now a small town chiropractor—is even more upset by the advent of a teen-agered college girl into his household.

Brenda Tek, Greentown, will play the part of the coed-boarder and Edson Lott of Radnor will portray the musclebound athlete who is her steady date.

Others in the cast are Ronald Dietrich of Hamburg; Linda Wolfe, Jonestown; Saul Rosenberg, Easton; Dominick Guzzi, Old Forge; Ronald Brill, Honesdale; Ken Rozelsky, Scranton and Wayne Creveling, Easton.

Barbara Garabrant, Westfield, N.J., is student director; Ronald Olivetti, Wind Gap, is the stage manager and Bernard Koloski, Hellertown, is the set designer.

On Oct. 27 Rally Day will be held at the Pocono Lake Methodist Church. The speaker will be LaTomillo Kamu, a Crusade scholar at Drew University School of Theology. Mr. Kamu will show slides of his home area.

Mrs. Mae Miller and Mrs. John Werkheiser are confined to their homes with illness.

Shots For Firemen

MEMBERS of the Acme Hose Fire Co. wishing to get Asian Flu shots are requested to report at Dr. R. F. Jones' office, 116 Washington St., East Stroudsburg, Saturday. Shots will be given between 9 and 10 a.m.

Services For Mrs. Connors

FUNERAL services for Mrs. Mary A. Connors will be held at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at Our Lady of Victory Chapel in Tannersville.

Burial will be in the Bartonsville Cemetery.

Viewing will be held at the Gantzhorn Funeral Home to-night at 7. Rosary services at 9 p.m.

The family requests omission of flowers.

Kresgeville

Mrs. Florence Cleres, Philadelphia; Mrs. Delbert Frable, Gilbert; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Berger, Palmerton, and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Zimmerman, Lansford, called on Mrs. Mary Kresge.

Mrs. Sadie Bollinger, of Palmerton, was the guest of Mrs. Donald Eckhart and the William Kreimoyer family.

Due to conflicts with other meetings, the meeting of the

Mrs. W. E. Andrews

Executive Committee of the West End Groundhog Lodge 6 was postponed from Oct. 11 to Oct. 25.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Lenhart over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lenhart, Allentown, and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lenhart, Philadelphia.

Quite a number from this place attended the funeral of a former resident and teacher of this place, Mrs. Mabel Correll Evans, at Slatington.

Join Armed Forces

BONN, Oct. 16 (AP)—About 10,500 youngsters join the West German armed forces this mid-week to bring the manpower count to around 118,000. The new ones comprise 6,500 liable to conscription and 4,000 volunteers.

Funeral Notices

WILLIAMS, Allen, of Bos-sardville, Wednesday, Oct. 16, aged 76 years. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend funeral services to be announced by DANIEL G. WARNER.

"When the new house came to our block...
We all learned about —
HOUSEPOWER!"
TRADE MARK

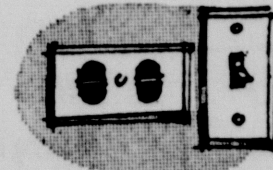

"The family in the new house enjoyed life more than our families did. They seemed to have more free time and energy—we could see right away that their work wasn't as hard, didn't take as long. So, we asked the new neighbor about it—and we learned about HOUSEPOWER—modern wiring with:

A 3-wire service entrance (#2 wire) and at least a 100-ampere service main panel to supply my family's needs.

At least eight 120-volt circuits and two 240-volt circuits for lighting and appliances—present and future.

Numerous convenience outlets and switches, conveniently placed to make it easy to light lights or plug in appliances anywhere.

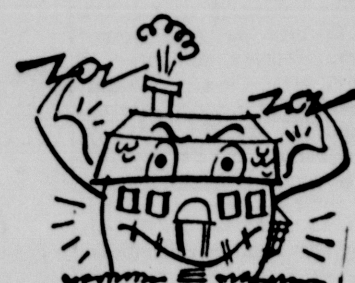

"And that explained it—no wonder his family was so happy! They could get full use out of all the modern electric appliances that end drudgery, save time and energy.

"And we found out that an electrical contractor can easily give even older homes Full HOUSEPOWER—so that their families, too, can Live Better... Electrically."

Call your electrician now. Have your home rated for Full HOUSEPOWER

Easton Member Appointed To Board Of State's Municipal Authorities Association

POCONO MANOR—Clarence L. Conner of Chester was named chairman of Pennsylvania Municipal Authorities Assn. as that group ended its three-day convention here yesterday morning.

Conner succeeds Charles C. Wedemeyer of West View as head of the organization. Other new officers named were the following: Robert B. Reed Jr., Oakmont, first vice chairman and Claude C. Fogelman, Northampton, second vice chairman.

New board members are Laurence S. Bell, Wilkesburg; Frank E. Heller, Williamsport and Chester E. Rogers, Easton.

Officers are named for one-year terms and board members serve three years.

Directors who completed their terms of office with the current conference were Howard F. Rickenbach, West Reading and I. S. Sahli, Beaver Falls. Both were given certificates of merit for service over a number of years at this year's conference. Sahli was the PMAA's first chairman when it was organized in 1945.

Fogelman, the new second vice chairman, has served the PMAA as its secretary-treasurer for most of its history. Wedemeyer was honored by the association at its banquet meeting when he was given an inscribed gold watch acknowledging his service to PMAA and authorities in

Stroudsburg Sailor Aboard Saratoga

U. S. ATLANTIC FLEET.
Oct. 16—Kenneth R. Alspach, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Alspach of Rt. Three, East Stroudsburg, Pa., aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Saratoga, took part in North Atlantic Treaty Organization exercises in European waters during the latter part of September.

More than 200 vessels, with attached air support, from NATO countries took part in the operations, marking the first time since 1953 that forces under NATO have been engaged in large-scale combined fleet maneuvers.

Air and submarine opposition, anti-submarine warfare, aircraft carrier, operations and guided missile were used.

Area PSEA To Feature Dinner

MONROE County branch of the Pennsylvania State Education Assn. will hold a dinner meeting Tuesday, Oct. 22 at Bartonville Hotel.

Main speaker will be Eugene P. Bertin, assistant executive secretary of the PSEA.

Local chairman for the event is Elwood F. Arndt, Pocono High School.

Notification

All principals are asked to notify Arndt by telephone no later than Friday, Oct. 18 of the number of teachers from their schools who will attend. The number is 6082-R-4.

In announcing plans for the meeting yesterday, Arndt said that it is "important that all teachers who are interested in their profession should make every effort to attend."

Special dinner music will be provided by Numa Snyder. Dinner will be served promptly at 6:30 p. m.

A.C. Koebel, 67, Dies At Hospital

ARTHUR C. Koebel, 67, of 503 Lindbergh Ave., Stroudsburg, died yesterday morning in General Hospital.

Born in Cincinnati, O., he had lived most of his life there, coming to Stroudsburg 17 years ago. He was a retired printing pressman who had been employed by the Hughes Co.

Family

He was the son of the late Charles and Margaret Essell Koebel. Of the Lutheran faith he also held membership in Prospect Junior Lodge 256, Cincinnati and the CLU Club, East Stroudsburg.

Surviving are his wife, Frieda; a brother, William of Cincinnati.

Funeral services will be held Monday at the Miller funeral home, Cincinnati. William R. Thomas is in charge of local arrangements.

Greentown Resident Succumbs

HARVEY GILLNER, 68, a native of Greentown, Pike County, died suddenly yesterday at his home in Maplewood, N. J.

He left Greentown in 1916. Most of his life he was engaged in the wholesale meat business and more recently had been employed as a meat cutter.

Survivors

He is survived by his wife; a sister, Lena Oisommer, Englewood, N. J., and a brother, Aden Gillner, South Sterling.

Funeral services will be held in the Mountaineer Methodist Church Friday at 1:30 p. m. Interment will be made in Oakland Cemetery, Mountaineer.

Nude In Laundry Bag

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 16 (AP)—University of Nebraska authorities confirmed today it was not a bag of laundry found hanging from the doorknob of a sorority house here last week.

The laundry bag contained a nude fraternity member.

The university authorities said the case has been turned over to the Inter-Fraternity Council for possible disciplinary action against the pranksters.

Association Elects Officers For Year

ry of resolutions presented and recommended by its newly-formed policy committee. Among these final actions were the following:

PMMA went on record favoring payment of relocation costs of authority facilities on high-way rights-of-way by the governmental body financing the cost of relocation of the highway or its construction.

The association said it favors federal grant-in-aid "only to assist in solving local problems having national implications and State grants-in-aid for those of State-wide nature." It said, however, that "many local problems are of such a nature and so interlocked with those of Federal and State government that they cannot be satisfactorily solved solely by local means."

One area in which the association said it favored "the continuation of prudent and deserved Federal and State aid" is in water conservation and anti-pollution projects. At the same time the group urged its own members to take stronger steps to eliminate pollution on their own watersheds.

Past Between Us
—By Bobby Westbrook

Boy, yesterday was sort of like Christmas for the consumer. Their business was being wooed in very pleasant ways: free parking all over Stroudsburg, free roses, punch and cookies, at the A&P; free cookies and chances at the new Acme.

After a summer of being elbowed, pushed and shoved to the end of the line by summer visitors, it's somewhat heady business being made a fuss over and given the red carpet treatment.

In all fairness to the local merchants, we'll have to admit that it's not their fault we feel like summer's step-children. But, you know, I think the summer does something to us as a community. We don't welcome newcomers. We stand back and watch them struggle awhile with their loneliness while we decide whether to invite them into our hearts and homes.

I doubt if we realize just how cruel we are, in times like that, or how difficult we make it for firms or agencies trying to woo new people into local positions. The men usually don't have much trouble, but their wives do.

And we have a reputation for being an "ingrown" community. Not provincial, exactly, but slow to welcome, integrate or appreciate new people.

Once they've proved that they are interested in us and don't feel superior or antagonistic, if they introduce themselves or speak first or volunteer, or if they merely stick it out, why we take them to our hearts with such enthusiasm that we practically work them to death.

But that's nothing to our credit. It's like the Indians making a candidate walk over hot coals before he can be accepted as a member of the tribe. We'd do ourselves, and the community, a service if we'd outgrow it.

THE LONE undefeated eleven in the immediate vicinity is East Stroudsburg High. Jack Kist's Cavaliers notched victory no. 3 Monday night by long-running Leighton to death, 25-7.

Kist, probably as close a disciple of the late Knute Rockne with his advocacy that every play is a potential TD, actually put in force the theory Monday night against the Indians.

Eastburg made four TDs and all were of the spectacular variety. Carl (Corky) Smith, the Cavaliers' candidate for all-state honors got two of them—67 and 87-yard jaunts; Phil Simon, despite sickness, got another on a 72-yard run; and Co-Captain Roger Ray picked up the other, via 47-yard punt return.

Kist, when putting together movements such as above has to have two main forces unite as one. His backs have to have speed and the timing to hit the hole at the precise moment and the ability to swing either right or left to his advantage.

The Cavalier blocking has to be nigh on perfect. Every man in the Eastburg attacking unit has to perform his duty as one. No slip ups or the back can go all the way, goes nowhere.

In the Leighton game it was perfect three times (officially as Smith twice (the also had two long 60-yarders called back) and Simon once attests. Ray's punt return depended also on the blocking of his mates and Roger's ability to use his wave of help to good advantage.

Some say the long layoff would hamper the Cavaliers. If it did, Monday's exhibition failed to reveal any staleness in the Eastburg lineup.

In the Cavaliers first two games, the enemy gave the Kist ends a rough time in each outing. However, Leighton, in trying for the same success found the going rough as flankmen Bob Stine and Ray Uhl turned back every advance in veteran fashion.

The Eastburg middle line, anchored by our favorite up-front boys, Co-Captain Horace Cole and big Doug Smith—did themselves proud—as in every game thus far.

A lot of folks call Kist a gambler—one who takes that chance to pull victory out of defeat. We will go along with this on many occasions. However, this season we believe the Cavalier mentor got something going in which he always hoped for but seldom was able to put into real force because of lack of right material.

Jack, more or less, has the surething at the North Courtland St. Institution. He has the personnel that gives his theory that every play is a potential TD. The likes of Corky Smith, Simon and Ray are evidence of this fact. Linemen, ala Stine, Doug Smith, Cole, Tom Long, Foster Ladlee, Ray Uhl and Wes Werkheiser are making sure their backfield mates are having an easier time.

In the Pen Argyl game, the boys up front didn't put out as well. But this was the usual letdown that comes when a foe is taken lightly. The Green Wave was "up" that Saturday, but not enough to see the Cavalier go on the losing side of the ledger.

It's a long way to the end of the season. And with the flu bug hitting like a cobra from all angles, everything is as uncertain as the weather. But you can put it down in the little notebook that Eastburg will be a tough obstacle for any team to hurdle this year.

Fans, even if the locals are down in score, can relax somewhat—Kist won't though—and work on the theory that every time quarterback Charley Lupin and Bob Herman handle the snap from center and hand off to one of the Cavalier merchants in the backfield, a potential TD has been set up. Nine times out of ten the play may not go anywhere, but from early pictures of the Eastburgers, the tenth time is what the opposition has to look out for. That may be the maneuver which will go all the way.

East Stroudsburg High Eleven Hosts Bangor Friday

Mountaineers Play Slaters Tuesday

EAST Stroudsburg High will make up its once-postponed game with Bangor High Friday night at the Cavaliers' Memorial Stadium, Eastburg principal Ralph O. Burrows announced last night.

Rescheduling of the Cavaliers and Slaters was set up following a series of postponements and schedule juggling between officials of Stroudsburg, Eastburg and Bangor—and Parkland. The round-about dickering went this way:

1. Parkland High requested that its Saturday game with East Stroudsburg be postponed. No date was set for the makeup of the tilt.

2. Stroudsburg High asked Bangor school aides to postpone tomorrow's game with the Slaters until next week. Bangor suggested and Stroudsburg okayed Tuesday night of next week for the contest which will be played at Bangor.

3. East Stroudsburg, with no game for this weekend and Bangor, which has been idle practically three weeks, got together and decided to play off their game tomorrow at Memorial Field, Eastburg.

Kickoff at 8 p.m. Game time of tomorrow's game runoff is 8 p.m. This will be the second game in four days for the Cavaliers who are boasting a three-game winning streak.

Bangor, losers to Palmerton and Catawqua in their only outings, will be seeking its first win. Last year the Slaters surprised Eastburg, and gained a 19-7 victory over Jack Kist's eleven.

Head Talent Bidding For All-America

ATLANTA, Oct. 16 (AP)—Massive tackle Lou Michaels, who blends savagery and speed with awesome results for Kentucky, and Auburn end Jimmy Phillips head an imposing array of Southeastern Conference football talent bidding for All-America recognition.

Crowding the senior-linemen in the judgment of The Associated Press regional advisory board today were Billy Cannon, sparking Louisiana State sophomore half-back, and LSU senior fullback Jimmy Taylor.

Polled as the 1957 season neared the halfway point, the seven board members noted performances of all-star caliber by 20 SEC players. But at or near the top of every list were Michaels and Phillips, who collided last Saturday when Auburn edged Kentucky 6-0.

"Michaels is an All-America if I ever saw one," said Auburn Coach Ralph Jordan after watching an aroused, Michaels-inspired Kentucky defense.

Time after time the 6-foot-2, 236-pound Michaels used his startling speed to halt Auburn running plays aimed at the opposite side of the Wildcat line. Nobody runs at Michaels, and they're finding it difficult to run away from him. The 21-year-old from Swoyersville, Pa., emphasizes his All-America claim with tremendous left-footed punting and outstanding blocking.

Had To Make Change

Greenberg Is Fired As GM By Cleveland Club Owners

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16 (AP)—The board of directors of the Cleveland Indians baseball club at a special meeting this afternoon served notice on Hank Greenberg that his contract as general manager would not be renewed.

The announcement was made by Board Chairman William R. Daley, Cleveland financier and industrialist, at a news conference following the meeting. He said Greenberg's successor had not been selected and none had been discussed.

Explaining the board's action, Daley said, "It was generally felt that we had to make a change at this time. The attendance has been declining, but no one can say whose fault it is."

Papers Critical Pressed for elaboration, Daley said the board's feeling resulted from criticism of Greenberg in the newspapers and bitter complaints against the general manager by the baseball fans, who have blamed him for everything from not being able to get a good seat at the stadium to failure to televise more games.

Myron H. Wilson, club president, told newsmen fan reaction against the former home run slugger was the major factor in Greenberg's dismissal. "All the fans seem to be complaining about Greenberg, but no one will tell us what they think is the matter with him," Wilson said.

Visibly moved by the turn of events, Greenberg told newsmen in a statement he was "keenly disappointed that the board of directors chose to terminate my contract."

"I am proud of my record in Cleveland during the past 10 years," he said. "I have gained many honors in baseball, but feel that my work in Cleveland is one of my greatest achievements."

He pointed out that during his tenure as general manager, which began in 1950, the Indians finished no lower than second until this year, and won the American League pennant in 1954. The sixth place finish this year was their lowest since 1946.

Greenberg, 46, who is one of the club's 13 directors, explained that he abstained from voting today. He acquired control of an estimated 20 per cent of the club stock in February 1956. He said that he would retain his stock and his place on the board of directors declaring, "Cleveland is a baseball town."

He said he would continue to maintain an interest in the club and wants to keep his home here. Talk of moving the Cleveland franchise is "utterly ridiculous," Greenberg added. He said the board of directors had never considered a move and was not considering one now. Reports of a possible transfer of the franchise have appeared in Cleveland newspapers.

Greenberg's dismissal, effective at the expiration of his contract in December, came two weeks after he had fired Kerby Farrell as the Indians' field manager and named Bobby Bragan, former manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, to pilot the club in 1958.

Daley said "the full support" of the directors is behind Greenberg's choice of Bragan.

Webb, who weighed 160 pounds, quickly displayed the power that has carried him to victory in 23 of 25 previous fights.

His opponent, who went in at 157½, had a three-win string going until he ran afoul of Webb. Prior to tonight, he had won 28 of 39.

Webb, 25, was substituting for Tiger Jones, who pulled a ligament while in training.

Not more than 10 blows were struck in the first round before LaBua hit the canvas in their televised fight from the Fairgrounds Coliseum.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 16 (AP)—The world champion Milwaukee Braves today announced the sale of relief pitcher Dave Jolly, who saw very little action this season, to the Giants.

General Manager John Quinn said the transaction that sent Jolly to San Francisco was a straight cash deal and no waivers were involved. He declined to reveal the purchase price.

Iowa Leading Defensive '11' In Nation

By The Associated Press

IOWA'S immovable linemen tossed back Indiana for a net loss of 30 yards rushing last Saturday and achieved two positive results while other teams were backing into the lead in NCAA defense statistics.

Iowa achieved the best three-game record for defense against rushing in 11 seasons and became the first team since 1950 to hold two rivals to minus yardage in one season. San Francisco, no longer a football power, did it in 1950.

24.7 Per Game In three games, Iowa has yielded a net of just 74 yards or an average of 24.7 a game. Washington State actually accounted for more than that total, but Utah State wound up with a net of minus six yards and Indiana minus 30. It averages out to a gain of three quarters of a yard a running play against the Hawkeyes.

Emphasizing Iowa's defensive strength is the fact that Arizona State, second on this week's rushing defense table, compiled by the NCAA Service Bureau, has yielded 349 yards or 87.3 a game, and Auburn, the total defense leader, has given up 94 yards a game on the ground.

Otherwise it was defensive lapses rather than defensive strength that marked the major college performances.

Auburn backed into the total defense lead although it yielded more yardage to Kentucky than to either of two earlier opponents.

And Georgia Tech became the leader in pass defense although Louisiana State completed as many passes against the Southern Methodist together and gained about as many air yards as those two teams.

Princeton, leader a week ago in both total defense and rushing defense, dropped to third and eighth in those two tables after being pushed around for 284 yards by Penn. Mississippi State, previous pass defense leader, gave up 125 yards to Arkansas State passes and dropped out of the first ten in the tabulation.

The top figures now show Auburn has held its combined opposition to an average of 160.3 yards a game, edging out Navy, which has yielded 160.8 yards for four games. Georgia Tech has allowed only eight enemy pass completions in three games for 87 yards total or 29.0 yards a game. Runner-up Virginia has allowed 35.0 yards a game by passes. Only 18 passes have been attempted against Tech.

Utah State is the new team punting leader with an average distance of 42.5 yards on 13 kicks. Colorado State and North Carolina State have been most successful at running back kicks. Colorado State has averaged 24.6 yards returning five punts. N. C.

It was the second death from football injuries this year among Pennsylvania players, Richard Sunday, 15, was injured while playing for Forty Fort High School against Bloomsburg Sept. 21. He died at Scranton State Hospital the next day.

Spartans On Ice EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan State's hockey team has picked anything but a push-over for its first game of the season. The Spartans face the Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League at the MSU Ice Arena on Dec. 3. State opens the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League season at home Dec. 17 against Colorado College. The Spartans won five of 20 games last season.

Second Death that Richard Wimmer, 15, who was injured in a football game last Saturday, died of a brain hemorrhage.

Wimmer, a halfback on Central Junior High School's football team was injured in a game with South Mountain Junior High.

The autopsy was performed by Lehigh County Coroner Clayton O. P. Werley at Allentown General Hospital. Wimmer was injured after making a high tackle of an opposing player. Both fell and Wimmer's head struck the ground.

Wimmer told Coach Joseph Hospodar he felt well enough to return to the game. Two plays later he complained of dizziness and was taken out, and later was sent to the hospital where he died yesterday.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1957

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Invigorating vibrations, but you are asked to be careful and discerning, nevertheless. Many activities can move ahead appreciably; you can make progress.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—There will be moments when you say you may be annoyed, slowed down, even confused, but keep to your enthusiasm, nevertheless, and "keep at it," whatever "it" is. No time wasting!

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—You may be inclined to go hastily from one matter to another today, but there is always a way to improve a schedule. Seek best methods. Gains through just good work.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—There's no time like now for TODAY'S work and planning for future action. Don't try too hard, nor be anxious as you proceed. A good period for youngsters' affairs.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Don't make excuses for lack of ambition and effort. Usually you do this sign don't make them, yet sometimes you do drift. Be properly enthusiastic, efficient, and keep smiling, the while you keep trying.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Haste and anxiety will accomplish nothing. Think first, then act with a cool, A-B system, plus good humor. Don't look for trouble.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Especially strong favorable aspects for you to use carefully (as Libra normally does). A day for gaining ground in important little ways that will help tremendously later. Be happy.
